Q1 2026 Fund Commentary

Commentary and opinions are provided by Putnam Investments Canada

Market Commentary

Fixed income markets recorded losses in the first quarter. The quarter began on uncertain footing as credit concerns around artificial intelligence (AI)-related developments and their impact on the software sector weighed on sentiment. Investors grew more cautious as the quarter progressed because of heightened geopolitical risk related to the Middle East conflict, despite resilient corporate fundamentals. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (Fed) held rates as inflationary pressures persisted from tariff impacts and higher energy prices.

The yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury was volatile and ended March at 4.32%, 16 basis points higher than where it began the quarter. In this environment, high-yield corporate bonds posted negative returns as spreads widened. The U.S. high-yield default rate ended the quarter at 2.07%, still below long-term averages. Total high-yield new issue supply for the quarter was roughly USD$80 billion, while high-yield funds reported outflows from the asset class.

Performance

Underweight positioning and security selection within the services and technology sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. Security selection within CCC-rated securities also contributed, as did security selection within the U.S. region.

Seagate Technology Holdings PLC contributed to the Fund's performance as the underlying equity rose on continued momentum. Venture Global Inc. and Crescent Energy Co. also contributed to performance.

Security selection within the chemicals sector detracted from the Fund's performance. Security selection within BBB-rated securities also detracted.

Apollo Global Management Inc. detracted from the Fund's performance because of broader concerns around private credit companies. Not holding New Fortress Energy Inc. and Space Exploration Technologies Corp. also detracted from performance because of strong returns from those names during the period.

Portfolio Activity

The sub-advisor added Talen Energy Corp. during the quarter and increased Nexstar Media Group Inc. The sub-advisor sold Onity Group Inc. and reduced Seagate Technology Holdings PLC.

Outlook

In the sub-advisor's view, corporate fundamentals have been resilient and market technicals have been supportive. The sub-advisor expects bouts of volatility to continue around U.S. policy implementation and geopolitical tensions. From a valuation standpoint, spreads remain tight by historical standards but are appropriate given the low default environment supported by open capital markets, although they've recently widened.

Counsel High Yield Fixed Income Series F

The Fed has held rates to start the year, and the sub-advisor expects it to remain data-dependent in its approach. The sub-advisor remains focused on industry and company fundamentals, the health of balance sheets, free cash flow generation and the resilience of credits to slower economic growth, and is cautious on deeply distressed names.

The U.S. high-yield default rate increased slightly in March but remains below long-term averages at 2.07%. Market technicals remain solid with strong demand and consistent new issuance. In the sub-advisor's view, yields and sub-par dollar prices remain attractive while spreads are at levels that are fair but not compelling. Risks to the outlook include higher-than-expected inflation, policy missteps, a more severe slowdown or recession and heightened geopolitical tension.
